DETAILED ACTION

The amendment and remarks filed 6/21/06 have been acknowledged and entered.

Claims 1-28 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The specification, as originally filed, does not provide support for "a return mechanism for returning-----" as is now claimed in claim 1.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 13, line 3, "a plate in the retracted position" is confusing and indefinite term. Also, "the retracted position" lacks antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ransley, Jr. et al. (5,778,907) in combination with McCue et al. (1,178,166).

Ransley et al. disclose a system for cleaning elongated objects. The system comprises a cleaning tank, an infeed conveyor, and outfeed conveyor mounted inside the tank sloping upwardly in the direction from the tank bottom toward the exit end. The reference also discloses the pusher flights, the water jet, the jet manifold, and the plate as claimed. See the abstract, Fig. 2, col. 2, line 7- col. 3, line 29, col. 4, lines 8-55, col. 5, lines 55-64, and col. 6, lines 21-57. The reference discloses circulating the objects as claimed. See Fig. 2.

The reference discloses all limitations with the exception of the back stop, the load ramp, and the angle as claimed.

McCue et al. disclose a can washing machine comprises a tank, a load ramp, and a back stop (15). See Fig. 2 and pages 1-2.

It would have been obvious for one skilled in the art to replace the infeed conveyor of Ransley et al. by the backstop and the load ramp taught by McCue et al. to obtain the claimed invention. This is because both references are from the same technical endeavor which is cleaning elongated objects. It would have been obvious for one skilled in the art to adjust the angle to obtain optimum results.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 6/21/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that McCue patent is a can washing machine, and thus does not contemplate the washing of elongated objects, a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim.

4. With respect to the Ransley, Jr. reference, applicants' argument is unpersuasive, because one skilled in the art can use one conveyor instead of multiple conveyors to reduce the expense. With respect to the combination, applicants' argument is unpersuasive, because one skilled in the art would adjust the angle between the feeder of McCue and the outfeed conveyor of Ransley, Jr. to obtain optimum results and obtain the claimed apparatus.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 1746

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
